The Department of Education process census data under the various Education Acts – further information can be found on their website: <https://www.gov.uk/education/data-collection-and-censuses-for-schools>

Our disclosure of personal data is lawful for the following reasons:

- The Academy Trust is under a legal obligation to disclose the information or disclosing the information is necessary for us to meet legal requirements imposed upon us such as our duty to look after our pupils and protect them from harm.
- It is necessary for us to disclose information for the purposes of our functions in providing schooling. This is a function which is in the public interest.
- We have a legitimate interest in disclosing information because it is necessary in order to provide our pupils with education and pastoral care and connected purposes as outlined above.

- We will not usually need consent to disclose your information. However, if at any time it appears to us that we would need consent then this will be sought before a disclosure is made.

5. Collecting Pupil Information

Whilst the majority of pupil information provided to us is mandatory, some of it is provided to us on a voluntary basis. In order to comply with the General Data Protection Regulation, we will inform parents and pupils whether they are required to provide certain pupil information to us or if they have a choice in this. We may also receive information from previous schools, the local authority and the Department of Education (DfE).

6. Storing pupil data

Personal data will be kept secure whilst it is being stored, used and when it is being shared with others. We hold pupil data until the pupil reaches the age of 25 or until they leave the school and their records are transferred. After this time the paper records are securely shredded and the electronic files are deleted. Where CCTV is installed, footage is overwritten on a rolling approximately 7 week schedule unless exported for evidential purposes in line with our ICO registered purposes (detection and prevention of crime).

We do not normally transfer information to a different country which is outside the European Economic Area. This would only happen if a parent lives abroad or if the pupil moves to a new school abroad. If this happens we will be very careful to make sure that it is safe to transfer the information. We will look at whether that other country has good data protection laws for example. If we cannot be sure that it is safe then we will talk to the pupil and parent about it and make sure that you are happy for us to send the information. As this is not something we normally do, and we don't know which country we might need to send information to, we cannot provide more information about it now but if we want to transfer data to a different country then we will tell parents and pupils whether or not we think it is safe and why we have decided that.

7. Who we share pupil information with

8. Why we share pupil information

We do not share information about our pupils with anyone without consent unless the law and our policies allow us to do so.

We share pupils' data with the Department for Education (DfE) on a statutory basis. This data sharing underpins school funding and educational attainment policy and monitoring.

We are required to share information about our pupils with the DfE under regulation 5 of The Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

10. The National Pupil Database (NPD)

The NPD is owned and managed by the Department for Education and contains information about pupils in schools in England. It provides invaluable evidence on educational performance to inform independent research, as well as studies commissioned by the Department. It is held in electronic format for statistical purposes. This information is securely collected from a range of sources including schools, local authorities and awarding bodies.

We are required by law, to provide information about our pupils to the DfE as part of statutory data collections such as the school census and early years' census. Some of this information is then stored in the NPD. The law that allows this is the Education (Information About Individual Pupils) (England) Regulations 2013.

To find out more about the NPD, go to <https://www.gov.uk/government/publications/national-pupil-database-user-guide-and-supporting-information>.

The department may share information about our pupils from the NPD with third parties who promote the education or well-being of children in England by:

- conducting research or analysis
- producing statistics
- providing information, advice or guidance

The Department has robust processes in place to ensure the confidentiality of our data is maintained and there are stringent controls in place regarding access and use of the data. Decisions on whether DfE releases data to third parties are subject to a strict approval process and based on a detailed assessment of:

- who is requesting the data
- the purpose for which it is required
- the level and sensitivity of data requested: and
- the arrangements in place to store and handle the data

To be granted access to pupil information, organisations must comply with strict terms and conditions covering the confidentiality and handling of the data, security arrangements and retention and use of the data.
